

Prophecy for Canada

Barry Wunsch – January 23rd, 2022, Langley, BC

I know how difficult it can be.... How much more is my love for you. I have seen you hurting, watching you struggle with your anger. My dear son, do not think that I am not at your side. Please understand that my ways are not your ways. ... I am the one who created you in your mother's womb. There is nothing of which I am not unaware. There is nothing that you can hide from me. Does a father not protect and shelter his children? Does he not want them on his knee? This is my heart's desire. I want to see you free from your pain, free from your past and free from all those hurts. I have to know, my beautiful child, why do you run from me? I long for your answer. Why do you reject me? When I draw close to you, you often hide or change the subject. My dearest child, let me reassure you, I am not coming to hurt you. I am coming to give you life, for I am aware of what it is that you miss. I know your every trigger and I know your every response.

Barry tell my people that I have created each one. I have given them my heart... I made you this way so you would love me by choice. For this reason it is much more special. I want you to know and realize how deep and how wide my love is for you. Take a minute by my side and see from my perspective. Who has created your DNA and who called your name? Who knew what you have to endure? Who foresaw what you have to overcome? Consider my child, this is how my heart feels for you. There is no pain that I have not endured for your sake. I see the moment when you just wanted to end it all. I am telling you again, I am here with you right now by your side. Do not forget that I have a book of life and in that book there is a very detailed journey. I knew the rough path and the runs and the hills that are hard to climb. Your strength was gone and you couldn't understand. But I tell you now to look around and to see that you are not alone. I'm right here by your side. I'm here to give you strength and help you make it. Only lean into me with all you have my child. Let me take the load off your hands because it is far too much for you to carry and it's actually killing you. So give it all to me now, all of it, every single thing. Let me carry this for you and together we will walk it out. It may not happen as fast as you like or the way you wanted it to in the moment but trust me. I have been doing this for a long time. ...

I want you to see from my perspective, from my point of view. I am seeing the enemy trying to get his hands on you.... And it broke my heart that you did not comprehend my love, my heart, for you. I saw the pain and the consequences.

This was not my plan for you, to see you crushed and in despair. I am with you now and I am calling you fully to me now. Stop running today my child. Come to me for my embrace. Come unto me and I will help you. I am here for you in your moment of distress. We can do this together, you and I, and you will one day understand my logic and why it had to happen the way it did...

All I am asking my child is to trust me and to give me your heart. It is safe with me. I will shield it and I will protect it and I will heal it anew. Yes you can trust me in all my ways. Holy is the word of the Lord.